

It is well known that the brand of a product and / or service is of paramount importance for the development and success of a business. The protection of industrial property rights involves social and technological aspects, contributing to the economic development of a country.

Thinking of the prosperity and compliance of its clients, Sanitary Intelligence developed ItsDelta-Brand® INPI, an innovative and independent tool specializing in trademarks registered at the Brazilian National Institute of Industrial Property (INPI), in accordance with Law No. 9,279, of May 14, 1996, to assist the research and automate the follow-up of the processes of registration of its Brand®.
